Sequoia & Kings Canyon National Parks
Wilderness Permit Reservation Instructions

Step 1: Fill out the application form
Applications will be accepted by mail and fax from March 1 to September 15 of each calendar year. Applications received outside of those dates will be returned. Applications must be received by the Wilderness Office a minimum of 14 days in advance of your proposed start date.

Step 2: Include pre-payment with your application form
Applications must include pre-payment of the $15 per wilderness camping fee. This fee remains the same for each reservation, regardless of group size or length. Payment may be made by credit card (VISA or MC only) or check or money order payable to the "National Park Service." The $15 fee is non-refundable after the reservation process is complete. Fees are not transferable to other parties or future years, and may not be re-sold. If you are unable to obtain the reservation, your credit card will not be charged or your check/money order will be returned.

Step 3: Submit your wilderness permit reservation application
Applications are only accepted by mail or by fax. Mail to: Sequoia & Kings Canyon National Parks, Wilderness Office, 47050 Generals Highway, Three Rivers, CA 93271-9700. Fax to: (559) 565-4239. Applications will not be processed over the phone. Submit only one application per group. Duplicate applications will be discarded. Only one person from the group may reserve a permit. Do not submit more than one separate application with payment for each applicable trip.

Step 4: The Wilderness Office processes your application
Applications requests will be processed in the order they are received. No preference is given to one method of submission over another.

Step 5 The Wilderness Office confirms the status of your reservation by mail
All requests we receive a response. Allow up to two weeks to receive your confirmation letter in the mail. The Wilderness Office will not confirm applications each year. If you refrain from calling to check on your status until two weeks have passed since you submitted the application, everyone's applications quicker. Please thoroughly read the confirmation letter.

Step 6 If necessary, make arrangements for a late pick-up of your wilderness permit
If you will be picking up your wilderness permit after 8a.m. on the morning of your departure, you must notify the Wilderness Office at least 24 hours before your trip. Reserved spots in the quota with a late pick-up arrangements will be given away on a first-come, first-served basis to those people present at the Wilderness Office.

Step 7: Bring your confirmation letter to pick up your wilderness permit at the visitor center or permit station closest to the trailhead
Your confirmation letter is not a wilderness permit and will not suffice for overnight travel. You must pick up your actual wilderness permit at the visitor center or permit station closest to the trail head on the afternoon before or by 8 a.m. on the morning of departure. Your confirmation letter will specify the visitor center or permit station where you must pick up your wilderness permit and details about pick-up hours (which are subject to change due to some quotas only being issued on a Day Before basis). If you arrive prepared with your estimated itinerary, you will greatly speed up the process of issuing your wilderness permit.

Other Information for Reservations and Wilderness Permits Issued by Sequoia & Kings Canyon National Parks
Permits are issued year round for all overnight wilderness trips. Daily entry trailquotas are in place from the Friday before Memorial Day weekend through the Columbus Day weekend. Some trailheads are also subject to a self-issue basis at visitor centers or permit stations. Permits are not required for day hiking on any trail for which reservations are not accepted.

Your entire group must enter the wilderness via the entry date and entry trail specified in the confirmation letter. Each party must travel together throughout the trip. The maximum group size is 15 people and 20 head of stock. Parties with separate permits but sharing the same final destination (school, church, friends, etc., or any combination thereof) may not travel or camp within 1/4 mile of each other if the total number of people exceeds 15.

For more wilderness information, including specific restrictions and requirements related to camping, campfires and portable bear proof canisters, contact the Wilderness Office at (559) 565-3766 or visit our website at www.nps.gov/seki/planyourvisit/wilderness.htm.

3 Give your dog at least six bathroom breaks daily

4 Shower him with praise when he does a good job

5 Don't punish your pup for accidents you haven't seen them make with your own eyes. (The picture above is exactly what you should NOT do.)

How to housetrain an adult dog

1 Take time off to housetrain your dog Someone needs to take your dog out for midday bathroom breaks so experts recommend taking time off work when you first get your dog If that's not an option you could also hire a dog walker

2 Start using a crate the day you bring him home..Crate training is the easiest way to teach a dog bladder and bowel control because dogs don't like to soil their sleeping and eating areas

The crate should be big enough for your dog to stand up turn around and lie down in comfortably but no bigger If it's too spacious your dog may feel like he can eliminate in one corner and still keep his living space clean Keep the crate in a high-traffic part of the house so your dog won t feel isolated Also make sure to give your dog lots of time outside the crate for exercise training and just hanging out and bonding with you If you keep him in his crate too long, he ll feel trapped and frustrated

If you re among those people who don t like putting their dogs in a crate keep in mind that with adult dogs you won't have to use it very long--maybe as few as three days--before he's safely housetrained.

3 Give your dog at least six bathroom breaks daily at least until you've finished housetraining.Aim to take out your dog first thing in the morning before you leave for the day twice during the day once after dinner and before going to bed Once you know he's got it, you can move him to four bathroom breaks a day the standard for adult dogs

Basic guidelines for using a crate

- Never confine your dog for longer than she can hold it. If he s ever forced to go inside his crate because you didn't let him out in time you've made housetraining much much harder
- Use the same "elimination station" each time Dogs develop a preference for pooping and peeing in the same spots Make it easier on yourself by choosing right from the start, the place close by where you want her to go
- Don't distract your dog with games and chit-chat; just stand still and let her circle and sniff As soon as your puppy begins to go give her a command such as "Go pee or poop" or "Do your business " Before long your dog will el minate on cue--a handy skill when you re traveling or don't want to spend your walks carrying a bag of poop

Can I keep my phone number if I want to get rid of my landline?

You must port your phone number to ooma before you can get rid of your landline. Number porting costs a 1-time fee of $39.99 per number you wish to port, and is available in most areas. For customers that upgrade to an annual subscription to ooma Premier you can port 1 number absolutely free.

Do NOT cancel your landline service until ooma has completed your port, which typically takes 3 – 4 weeks from the time ooma has all of your information. If you cancel your landline during the porting process, you may lose your landline service AND the phone number you are attempting to port.

Part II Selection of Fiscal Tax Year (see instructions)

Note: All corporations using this part must complete item O and item P, Q, or R.

O Check the applicable box to indicate whether the corporation is:

1. ☐ A new corporation adopting the tax year entered in item P, Part I.
2. ☐ An existing corporation retaining the tax year entered in item P, Part I.
3. ☐ An existing corporation changing to the tax year entered in item P, Part I.

P Complete item P if the corporation is using the automatic approval provisions of Rev. Proc. 2006-46, 2006-48 I.R.B. 859, to request (1) a natural business year (as defined in section 5.07 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46) or (2) a year that satisfies the ownership tax year test (as defined in section 5.08 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46). Check the applicable box below to indicate the representation statement the corporation is making.

1. ☐ Natural Business Year ▶ ☐ I represent that the corporation is adopting, retaining, or changing to a tax year that qualifies as its natural business year (as defined in section 5.07 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46) and has also met the gross receipts test (see section 5.07 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46). I also represent that the corporation is not precluded by section 4.02 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46 from obtaining automatic approval of such adoption, retention, or change in tax year.

   A natural business year is a tax year that coincides with the completion of a repeating annual business cycle and results in regular fluctuations in gross receipts. See section 5.07 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46 for more details.

2. ☐ Ownership Tax Year ▶ ☐ I represent that shareholders (as described in section 5.08 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46) holding more than half of the shares of the stock (as of the first day of the tax year to which the request relates) of the corporation have the same tax year or are concurrently changing to the tax year that the corporation adopts, retains, or changes to per item P, Part I, and that such tax year is the natural business year (as defined in section 5.07 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46) or an ownership tax year (as defined in section 5.08 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46). I also represent that the corporation is not precluded by section 4.02 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46 from obtaining automatic approval of such adoption, retention, or change in tax year.

   An ownership tax year is a tax year (determined by applying section 706(b)(1)(B)) that is the same as the tax year of one or more shareholders who own more than half of the shares of the corporation's stock. If more than one tax year satisfies this definition, the corporation may adopt any one of these tax years. A corporation may not adopt a tax year under this provision if it was previously precluded by section 4.02 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46 from obtaining automatic approval of such adoption, retention, or change in tax year.

Note. If you do not use item P and the corporation wants a fiscal tax year, complete either item Q or R below. Item R is used to request a fiscal tax year based on a business purpose and to make a back-up section 444 election. Item R is used to make a regular section 444 election.

Q Business Purpose — To request a fiscal tax year based on a business purpose, you must check box Q1. See instructions for details including payment of a user fee. You may also check box Q2 and/or box Q3.

1. Check here ▶ ☐ If the fiscal year requested in item P, Part I, is requested under the prior purposes provisions of Rev. Proc. 2002-39, 2002-22 I.R.B. 1046, or Rev. Attach a statement describing the relevant facts and circumstances and, if applicable, the gross receipts from sales and services necessary to establish a business purpose. See the instructions for more information regarding the gross receipts from sales and services necessary to establish a business purpose. If the IRS proposes to disapprove the requested fiscal year, do you want a conference with the IRS National Office?

   ☐ Yes ☐ No

2. Check here ▶ ☐ to show that the corporation intends to make a back-up section 444 election in the event the corporation's business purpose request is not approved by the IRS. (See instructions for more information.)

3. Check here ▶ ☐ to show that the corporation agrees to adopt or change to a tax year ending December 31 if necessary for the IRS to accept the corporation's request (see section 5.03 of Rev. If the corporation's business purpose request is not approved and the corporation did not make a back-up section 444 election, or (2) the corporation's business purpose request is not approved and the corporation did not make a back-up section 444 election, the corporation makes a back-up section 444 election, but is ultimately not qualified to make a section 444 election, or (3) the corporation's business purpose request is not approved and the corporation did not make a back-up section 444 election.

R Section 444 Election — To make a section 444 election, check box R1. You may also check box R2.

1. Check here ▶ ☐ to show that the corporation will make a qualified section 444 election to have the fiscal tax year shown in item P, Part I. To make the election, you must complete Form 8716, filed on or before the earlier of the 15th day of the 5th month after the date entered in item P, Part I, or the due date for the first required payment. See Form 8716 and its instructions for more information. Also check this box if a Form 2553 or 8716 is pending.

2. Check here ▶ ☐ to show that the corporation agrees to adopt or change to a tax year ending December 31 if necessary for the IRS to accept the corporation's request (see section 5.03 of Rev. Proc. 2006-46). If the corporation's business purpose request is not approved and the corporation did not make a back-up section 444 election, or (2) the corporation makes a back-up section 444 election, but is ultimately not qualified to make a section 444 election, or (3) the corporation's business purpose request is not approved and the corporation did not make a back-up section 444 election.

1. Photo Printer (check out old-look at new)
2. New Hand held scanner
3. Print out of Telephone (we have done Tablet – me accessing HPeprint when I need to be involved whether printing

6. Cassette to Computer Gadget
7. Look at other gadgets I have laying around 1 more time
8. Do you have the ability to read a floppy for me?
9. Check setting to see if MalwareBytes is set up to auto update I keep getting messages that data base is out of date

#4 – Just to see if I've made the right notes
Establishing my phone as a hotspot"
#1 Wireless Method I guess requires no real action
USB Method is a tether to another device (Probably should n't have to do this one)
BlueTooth Method – If Foxfi is blocked for some reason
Activate B/T turn on tablet – auto connect
(not sure about this note)
The tablet involved (mine or someone else's Ipad) will show various connections available – either my wireless or my bluetooth

I understand where the task scheduler is and the set up time
But looking at it th s morning C drive 5/14 at 10 p.m D drive HP Tools & Sys on 5/28 at 10 a m
1. If it is weekly...why the C drive date
2. On the other the date is yesterday when we were doing stuff---but you weren't here at 10 a m (I wonder if the clock was set correctly)

I understand about the Google Drive saving My Doc & My Pic every 10-15 minutes
I reviewed and got rid off all the stuff on OLD
No Print issues since you were here last.

So, probably no official technical issues just an appt for training time – lol

If you are happy with the channel selected press [ENT] and the display will return to VFO mode.

At any time you may abort the memory input by pressing the [CLEAR] key. The display will then return to VFO mode.

7-3 Memory recall (M.R) - Recalling receive data from memory

Once receive frequency and mode data has been stored into a memory location, its retrieval is quick and simple.

Let's assume that you wish to retrieve the frequency of 88.8 MHz which has been programmed into memory "A00" during the example in the preceding section. Turn on the receiver.

Press [SCAN] to place the receiver into memory recall mode (M.R). The legend "M.RE" appears on the far left of the LCD to confirm operation.

The receiver will display a memory channel mode, frequency and text. If the desired memory channel is not shown, simply rotate the RF/CAL LED by keying in the required location.

To recall memory channel A00 type [1A] [0] [0] there is no need to press [ENT]

The "M.RE SELECT" menu will automatically appear when the [1A] key is pressed so that the frequency and mode data is displayed on the third and fourth lines of the LCD for easy recognition.

The receiver will recall whatever memory channel data is shown when you entered memory recall mode.

Memory channel review / burst

The [DIAL] may be used to review, burst and select memory channels.

From VFO mode press [SCAN] to enter memory mode "M.RE" mode then rotate the [DIAL] to select the required memory channel.

This is a useful tool for reviewing memory contents and hunting for a specific channel when you forget where you stored it. Recall to display the number of the required memory channel, the last but one digit of memory recall will be flashing.

The receiver will monitor whatever memory channel is displayed in M.RE mode.

Department of Consumer Affairs

Debt Collection: Money Judgments and Frozen Bank Accounts

Information for Consumers

Debt collection was one of complaint categories the Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA) in 2008 with complaint volume increasing nearly 70% compared to 2007. Although DCA can mediate many of the complaints we receive, we cannot maintain issues that involve money judgments and frozen bank accounts. To help you in these situations—if your money—DCA created this fact sheet, which we also share in turn when you meet an attorney.

Money Judgments

What is a money judgment?
If a person or company known as the "creditor" sues you, claiming that you owe a certain amount of money, and they are right, a the court can issue a "money judgment." The creditor gets a right to try to collect that money from you or to levy the judgment. If a creditor has a money judgment against you, that creditor may try to take money directly from your bank account to pay off the debt.

If I have a money judgment against me, what happens to the money in my bank account?
One way a creditor can try to collect on a money judgment is to serve a legal papers to the bank or credit union requiring it to restrain or "freeze" a certain amount of all money in your account. This money is not taken immediately from the account.

Can a creditor take all of my money to satisfy a money judgment?
In New York State, as of January 1, 2009, even if a creditor has a judgment against you, the creditor cannot take more than 10% of the money in your account. This means that even you owe

Exempt Funds
Under State and Federal law, certain money may never be taken by creditors to satisfy money judgments. (See also the Exemptions on the Exempt Income Protection Act.) Law makers have identified the exempt funds. You may ask a creditor or financial institution to restrain only certain funds, but it cannot be exempt funds or forcibly take these funds from you or your bank account to pay off a debt.

Exempt funds include the following:

- ✓ Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- ✓ Social Security retirement
- ✓ Child Security Disability (SSD)
- ✓ Public assistance (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF))
- ✓ Income earned while receiving SSI or public assistance
- ✓ Disability benefits
- ✓ Workers' compensation benefits
- ✓ Veterans benefits
- ✓ Black lung benefits
- ✓ Spousal support, maintenance (alimony) or child support
- ✓ Retirement
- ✓ Unemployment benefits

- ✓ Wages. Ninety percent (90%) of your wages earned during the last 60 days are exempt if you need them for basic needs. This includes salary, commissions, bonuses and medical. This means that if you earn $600 per week, up to $3,600 would be exempt from an account freeze if you prove that money for ordinary expenses like rent or mortgage, food, or medicine.
- ✓ Most public or private pensions. Public or private pensions are usually exempt from collection.

Exempt Income Protection Act of 2008
Under a new law effective January 1, 2009—the Exempt Income Protection Act of 2008—some money held in bank accounts is protected to ensure that consumers have sufficient funds available to meet their basic needs, such as rent, food, and medicine.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the application used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

Prayer to St Joseph over 1900 years old

O St. Joseph whose protection is so great, so strong, so prompt before the Throne of God, I place in you all my interests and desires O St. Joseph do assist me by your powerful intercession and obtain for me from your Divine Son all spiritual blessings through Jesus Christ, Our Lord, so that having engaged here below your Heavenly power I may offer my Thanksgiving and Homage to the most Loving of Fathers O St Joseph, I never weary contemplating you and Jesus asleep in your arms I dare not approach while He reposes near your heart Press him in my name and kiss His fine Head for me, and ask Him to return the Kiss when I draw my dying breath St. Joseph, Patron of departing souls pray for us Amen

Say for nine consecutive mornings for anything you may desire It has seldom been known to fail.

This prayer was found in the fiftieth year of Our Lord Jesus Christ In 1500's it was sent by the Pope to Emperor Charles when he was going into battle

Whoever reads this prayer or hears it or carries it, will never die a sudden death, nor be drowned, nor will poison take effect on them They will not fall into the hands of the enemy nor be burned in any fire, nor will they be defeated in battle

Make this prayer known everywhere

Imprimatur

The Historical Discovery that Changes Everything

A Dead Sea Scroll entitled "Some Works of the Law" was published in 1994. This was the first time the world had seen the phrase "Works of the Law" outside the Bible itself. As a cryptographer I determined to use the scroll to crack the code—to decipher the precise meaning of "Works of the Law" once and for all. Little did I know that the final result would lead to a discovery that is destined to change everything.

Most church denominations subscribe to one of two concepts regarding the "Works of the Law". Some denominations consider "Works of the Law" to refer to the entirety of Moses' Law. Other denominations consider it to refer to only the ritualistic aspects of Moses' Law (such as circumcision and dietary requirements). Yet the Christian New Testament remains internally irreconcilable under both scenarios.

When I deciphered the actual first century meaning of "Works of the Law" an unexpected result accompanied it. The entire book of Romans became immediately coherent from beginning to end. Not only that, but the coherent message of Romans was identical to what Jesus taught in the Gospel of Matthew.

In Matthew's Gospel Jesus taught that the Golden Rule is the entirety of God's Law. For centuries the book of Romans was used to decry liberals who embraced the Golden Rule as all that matters. Now with the decipherment of "Works of the Law" the tables have turned. The decipherment reveals that Paul used the term to teach the Romans that the Golden Rule is all that matters. It was the entire point of his letter to them.

It turns out that "Works of the Law" included much more than just the ritual requirements of Moses' Law, yet it included far less than the entirety of Old Testement Law—some Old Testament commands were "Works of the Law" and some were not. And this is where things get really really interesting. For the dividing line as to what determined whether something was a "Work of the Law" or not was nothing other than the Golden Rule. It is here where Paul's letter to the Romans mapped perfectly into piece with Jesus' teachings in Matthew.

In a nutshell, commandments were either "Works of the Law" (commandments between man and God) or they were commandments based on the Golden Rule (commandments between man and man). The Pharisees taught that God's Law consists of both types of commandments "Works of the Law" and commandments based on the Golden Rule. Jesus strongly disagreed. He taught that only the Golden Rule based commandments were God's Law and nothing else (See illustration below).

Those who had faith in the Pharisees were trying to woo over Paul's converts in Rome. So Paul wrote his Roman converts to plead with them to have faith in Jesus—to trust him that only the Golden Rule based commandments vindicate a person before God, and the "Works of the Law" do not. Welcome to the actual book of Romans, the book whose message was lost for 1,500 years—until now.

Sample Presentations

To Start Bible Studies on the First Saturday in December

"We are here as a public service to families. Many parents want their children to love God. Do you think this is something that parents can teach their children, or must children learn to love God on their own?" Allow for response. Show the back of the December 1 Watchtower and consider together the material under the last question and at least one of the cited scriptures. Offer the magazines and arrange to return to discuss the next question.

—WATCHTOWER, December 1

"We are making brief visits to talk about God. We have found that most people have an opinion about God. Do you think that most people view him as an impersonal force of nature or as a friend who cares about them personally?" Allow for response. "This Bible verse tells us what kind of relationship God wants us to have with him. [Read James 4:8a.] This magazine outlines three things that we can do to feel closer to God."

Awake! December

"We are visiting briefly because of concern over a common health problem. According to the World Health Organization, mental disorders such as depression will affect one in four people at some point in their lives. Do you think that mental disorders are becoming more common? [Allow for response.] The Bible gives us hope that in the future life on earth will be free of illness and pain. [Read Revelation 21:3, 4.] This magazine outlines a few things that everyone should know about mental disorders."

Relief Service Highlights

From January 1 through May 2014, publishers working in the special need areas listed below distributed a total of 3,298 Bible studies and placed 10,698 books and 1,807 magazines. As of May 20, 9 the program was active in the following 13 cities: Atlanta, Dallas, Chicago, Indianapolis, Los Angeles, New Orleans, New York City, Philadelphia, San Francisco, San Juan (Puerto Rico), Seattle, Spanish Harlem (Manhattan), and Washington, D.C. We invite individuals, take advantage of every opportunity to present the good news.—Rom. 10:1

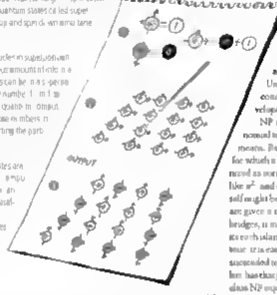
Quantum Computing 101

Physicists are actively pursuing the construction of quantum computers, which exploit the peculiar laws of quantum mechanics to perform certain computations significantly more efficiently than a conventional computer.

1 The fundamental feature of a quantum computer is that it uses qubits instead of bits. A qubit may be a particle such as an electron, with spin up (blue) representing 1 and spin down (red) representing 0, and quantum states called superpositions that involve both spin up and spin down at the same time (yellow).

2 A small number of qubits can be superposed to create an extraordinarily enormous number of states. For example, a mere 1,000 qubits can be in as many as 2^1,000 (about 10^300) states at once. A quantum computer would manipulate all those numbers in parallel. For instance, by hurling the particles with laser pulses.

3 When the particles' states are measured at the end of the computation, however, a button-an-atom version of the 10^300 parallel states vanish. Clever manipulation of the qubits could nonetheless solve certain problems very rapidly such as factoring a large number.



as pictured to a third power, which is 8, or 2^3. Computer scientists call such an algorithm efficient, and problems that can be solved by an efficient algorithm are said to be in the complexity class P, which stands for "polynomial time."

A simple example of a problem in P is: Given a road map, is every town reachable from every other town? P also contains many problems whose efficient solutions are not so obvious, such as: Given a whole number, is it prime (like 13) or composite (like 12)? Given a list of which men and women are willing to marry one another, is it possible to pair everyone off with a willing partner?

But now suppose you are given the dimensions of various boxes and you want a way to pack them in your trunk. Or suppose that you are given a map and you want to color each country red, blue or green so that no two neighboring countries are colored the same. Or that you are given a list of islands connected by bridges and you want a tour that visits each island exactly once. Although algorithms that are sometimes but not always find every possible solution are known for these problems, no algorithm is known that is fundamentally better. Every known algorithm will take an inordinate amount of time to execute exponentially with the problem size.

It turns out that the three problems I just listed have a very interesting property: they are all the "same" problem, in the sense that an efficient algorithm for any one of them would imply efficient algorithms for all the others. Stephen A. Cook of the University of Toronto, Richard Karp of the University of California, Berkeley and Leonid Levin, now at Boston University, proved in this remarkable conclusion in the 1970s when they developed the theory of NP-complete issues.

NP stands for "nondeterministic polynomial time." Do not worry about what that means. Essentially, NP is the class of problems for which a solution, once found, can be recognized as correct in polynomial time (something like n^2 and so on)—even though the solution itself might be hard to find. As an example, if you are given a map with thousands of islands and bridges, it may take years to find a tour that visits each island once. Yet if someone shows you a tour, it is easy to check whether that person has succeeded in solving the problem. When a problem has this property we say that it is in NP. The class NP encloses a huge number of problems of practical interest. Note that all the P problems are also NP problems, in part because any one of those were found, it could be adapted to solve all the other NP problems as well.

An efficient algorithm for an NP-complete problem would mean that computer scientists' present picture of the classes P, NP and NP-complete was wrong, because it would mean that every NP problem (including all the NP-complete ones) was actually a P problem. In other words, the class P would equal the class NP, which is written P = NP.

Does such an algorithm exist? Is P equal to NP? That is literally a million-dollar question—it carries a $1,000,000 reward from the Clay Math Institute in Cambridge, Mass.—and it has

A good quantum computer algorithm ensures that computational paths leading to a wrong answer cancel out and that paths leading to a correct answer reinforce

CHAPTER 6

SMALL-SIGNAL RF Amplifier Design

The design of RF small-signal amplifiers is a step-by-step logical procedure with an exact solution for each problem. There are many books available on the market today that offer schematics (complete with part values) which are "adaptable to any of your circuit needs." True, a caveat that the author may have designed for a specific set of operating conditions is offered and it may or may not meet that needs. Nonetheless, the design is presented without any design procedure attached and the reader is left out in the cold when he tries to adapt the circuit to his particular set of operating conditions.

The chapter presented here, however, takes the opposite approach. Detailed step-by-step procedures are followed in the design process so that you can choose the transistor you want and use it under any (realistic) operating conditions that you desire. You will no longer have to adapt someone else's schematic to your needs. Rather you will create your own homemade RF amplifiers and optimize them for your personal applications.

We will begin our discussion with a very brief overview of transistor biasing. We will discuss both the bipolar and the field-effect transistor (FET). As was shown in the last chapter the quiescent bias point of a transistor has a great effect on its Y and S parameters. Biasing a transistor is, therefore, serious business and should not be taken lightly.

Next, we'll jump head first into the RF aspect of amplifiers by examining stability (tendency for oscillation), gain, impedance matching, and general amplifier design, with emphasis on the use of Y and S parameters as a design tool.

SOME DEFINITIONS

To aid in this discussion, let's first take a closer look at the two types of transistors used in small signal design

1. Bipolar Transistor—A bipolar or bipolar junction transistor (BJT) is a three-terminal semiconductor device commonly used for amplification of analog or digital signals. It is constructed of doped sections of semiconductor material sandwiched together. The center section is called the base of the transistor. By varying the current between the base and one terminal called the emitter, one can vary the current flow between the emitter and a third terminal known as the collector, causing amplification of the signal at that terminal.

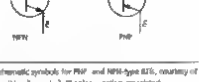

FIG 6-1 The schematic symbols for PNP and NPN-type BJTs, courtesy of Wikipedia (www.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bipolar_junction_transistor).

There are two major types of bipolar transistor PNP and NPN (Fig. 6-1). A PNP transistor has a layer of N-type semiconductor between two layers of P-type material. An NPN transistor has a layer of P-type material between two layers of N-type material. In P-type material electron charges are carried mainly in the form of electron deficiencies called holes. In N-type material the charge carriers are primarily electrons. Of the two types of BJTs the NPN is more commonly employed as it provides better performance (e.g., allowing greater currents and faster operation) in most circumstances.

As an example, schematic Fig. 6-2. During typical operation of the transistor, the emitter-base junction is forward biased and the base–collector junction is reverse biased. When a positive voltage is applied to the base–emitter junction the equilibrium between thermally generated carriers and the repelling electric field of the depletion region becomes unbalanced, allowing thermally excited electrons to inject into the base region. These electrons wander (or diffuse) through the base from the region of high concentration near the emitter towards the region of low concentration near the collector.

The collector–base junction is reverse-biased, so little electron injection occurs from the collector to the base.

Mr. Bloomberg, Mr. Murdoch, Mr. Colbert

It is too late to make a difference this year but Congress, or at least one Republican, really heard a troubling dimension about immigration. Mayor Michael Bloomberg of New York and Rupert Murdoch, head of the News Corporation — both Billionaires — told the immigration subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee that traditional and very-regressive immigration is an economic necessity.

Mr. Bloomberg told how New York City, rich in foreign born, is de-evolving entrepreneurs, was riding out the bad economy far better than the rest of the country. He warned that Americans refused to fix the broken immigration system is a fluent "irrational suicide."

Mr. Murdoch lamented that the nation's best and brightest earn advanced degrees here and then go home, stymied by red tape and arbitrary visa quotas. He argued that giving illegal immigrants a path to citizenship would be long them "out of a shadow economy, and add to our tax base." Yet said it is nonsensical to talk of expelling 11 or 12 million people."

When Representative Maxine Waters asked where, as Mr. Murdoch's Fox News, it was possible to hear arguments like his Mr. Murdoch said the panic finds them in The Wall Street Journal. That is a effort.

A few days earlier, the words panel heard from the TV satirist Stephen Colbert who told of his difficult day plinking crops with migrant farm workers. His appearance, mostly played in character as a conservative blowhard, was a comedy routine wrapped around a heartfelt truth that farm workers do a difficult and dangerous job that most Americans will not stoop to do.

We we not sure all committee members got it. We believe a great many Americans would, if their talented hand, are talked as bluntly and as persuasively as Mayor Bloomberg and Mr. Murdoch — and with as much heart as Mr. Colbert.

Editorial Notebook

Playing With Fire

Reading a child is already a journey through self-doubt and guilt, and new born parents know. Today it may we're doing it wrong, and that what we read tonight we do to hurt our young soon power tools and 24 times their size-will formation.

Mr. Tolley is a pedagogical dissenter, though not an economic one. He wrote a book, now in its sec ond edition, "Beyond the Battle of Ideas" and co-founded the Flamingo School near San Francisco, whose students "learn to read with WOE and not two-by-fours.

His argument: Children should not start learning. They should learn to work with their hands, not just their minds. Finally, because it hasn't been tried, they can't imagine, their independence ingenuity and happiness as well.

Mr. Tolley's book, "Fifty Dangerous Things you Should Let Your Children Do," is a primer in a world of home-school existence, fraught-saddled pleasure. Dangerous equipment and purposeful parental amnesty. He believes parents don't recognize what is most likely to endanger children (car rides, care seeking). And he says that by engaging in boundary (or activity) early experiences and play, children can become better problem-solvers and judges of risk, children who don't get accustomed with trivial danger (Ms. Smith Van Hand for the Winslow: No. 26, Check a "rope" he says, don't recognize real danger or can't handle it when it comes.

Mr. Tolley has no children. His theories probably makes more sense to single achieve than to those with others. I would not a referee in his 56 things, worth of which — like No. 38 Poison Your Friends (with super-safer sodium) and No. 1 Lick a Nine-Volt Battery — are inevitable or gross. But it's sun, enough to think of good replacements: Dig a hole, roll down a hill, use a boat.

His more reasoned use of David Sarnoff, ship's surgeon to Capt. James Cook (the British explorer in 1770 transformed by the sight of Hawaiian children on surfboards, Sarnoff wrote: "We saw with astonishment young boys & Girls about 6 or ten years of age playing amid surfs by themselves Were not that the inhabitants of a nation would have trembled to hear. So true it is that any seeming difficulties are easily overcome by dexterity & perseverance."

Mr. Sarnoff must be Mr. Tolley today's blogger of your pain tonight. Some dangers are dissolve into "no," if you know what you're doing.

successful in life generally will be those of ordinary attainment, who don't commit to overcome their errands and calls.

Instead of wasting time and effort on impediments that won't improve success seriously the Charter admonition would be better if focusing on basic intelligence and data analysis. It is to those efforts that astrology can make a difference and save America's lives.

Efficient, Not Sustainable

To the Editor:

Re "In Arabian Desert, a Sustainable City Rises, Walled and Carless" (front page, Dec. 31) Dubai Crisis Notebook, news page, Sept. 30):

The idea of blanks, near Abu Dhabi, may be energy-efficient; however unsustainable it is not.

It is in the air above. The geography is not diverse or large enough to continually supply the resources needed to satisfy its inhabitants needs and to prevent their waste. The problem more kind.

A regional model could serve to meet sustainability's social and economic goals, something Masdar's walls and small scale prevent. Sustainability requires thoughtful integration, not minimalism.

SON,

What if today

you could see yourself

the way that I see you?

I wish I could

somehow take you back and show you for a moment,

the beautiful baby boy

who won my heart forever

the first time I held him

in my arms

Or the mischievous toddler who never stopped

for more than a minute —

so full of life and curiosity

about the world

Step 22 Enter a dialing pattern in the Dialing Pattern field. Based on the previous examples, the dialing pattern would be 5501

Note For more information on dialing patterns and using regular expressions for dialing patterns, see the "InformaCast 8.0 Installation and User Guide."

Step 23 Select an authentication method from the Authentication dropdown menu. This is a new feature with DialCast, which allows you to set security on DialCast calls.

None will not require your users to prove their identity when making a DialCast broadcast. User Login will require your users to enter their numeric username. User Login and Password will require your users to enter their usernames and passwords.

Step 24 Select a message from the Select Message dropdown menu or enter a regular expression in the Message Description field that specifies the message to be broadcast.

Step 25 Use any of the following methods to dictate who will receive the broadcast (you can use more than one and the Dialcodes and DNs fields support more than one entry, separated by commas):

- Select a recipient group from the Select Recipient Groups dropdown menu
- Enter a regular expression in the Recipient Group Name field
- Enter a regular expression in the Dialcodes field
- Enter a regular expression in the DNs field

Step 26 Click the Add button to save your current dialing pattern configuration.

InformaCast should register each CTI route point. You can confirm this by looking at the registration address of each CTI route point in Communications Manager.

Step 27 Go back to your Communications Manager window and select Device | CTI Route Point. The Find and List CTI Route Points page appears.

Step 28 Adjust the filters on this page to display your DialCast route points and click the Find button. Your route points should display with the correct extension and the IP address of your InformaCast server.

If all of your CTI route points aren't registering:

- Check your list of dial codes and confirm that you have the name of the CTI route point for each dial code
- Review the InformaCast application user, confirming that you have associated each CTI route point with this user

"How Can I Test My Fax Machine?
How Do I Send and Receive Faxes Using a Mac?"

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just bought a new fax machine, and I'd like to make sure it works. How can I test it?

The most reliable way to test your fax machine is by sending a fax to another machine or receiving a fax from it—that's how it's designed to be used.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a free one-page test fax to 1-855-329-4329 (toll-free number in the United States). When you call this number, you'll hear a robotic voice say "Thank you for calling the fax test number. Please wait for the tone, then send your fax." Once you hear the tone, start the faxing process on your machine. When your fax is successfully received, you'll hear a confirmation message.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, you'll need to borrow a friend's fax machine (or have several faxes sent to your workplace). The fastest, easiest, and most reliable way to receive a fax is to use a free online faxing service. There are several such services available, but I recommend myfax.com because it's fast, reliable, and has a generous free plan.

is transmitted with every MIC.

For my client to join the WLAN, he first transmits SSID of the WLAN; therefore, the access points typically broadcast their SSID to let the clients know that an AP is in range.

Data streams, known as packets, are sent between the Access Point, and it clients. You need an algorithm to do differents to restore and up these packets, just the right tools. It named the transmission of these packets sent the largest security threat to any internet different

Wireless Encryption

The majority of home and small obstacle networks are encrypted using the two most popular methods.

1. WEP
2. WPA

WEP Wired Equivalent Privacy comes in 3 different key lengths: 64, 128, and 256 bits, known as WEP 64, WEP 128, and WEP 256 respectively. WEP provides a normal level of security but is more susceptible with older devices, different. It itself used point commonly. Each WEP key contains a 24 bit Initialization Vector (IV), and a user-defined or consequently generated key for content. WEP 128 is a combination of the 24 the IV and a user entered 26 small hex key. (104+24=128)

WEP also comes in WEP2 and WEP+ forms are not as common and not vulnerable to the contents WEP encryption.

WPA: WPA Protected Access comes in WPA and WPA2, and was created to resolve several issues found in WEP. Both protocols use with good security network, they are not compatible with older device and therefore not used as widely. WPA was designed to distribute different keys to each client, however in his and supply used in a (not as secure) pre-shared key (PSK) mode in which every client has the same encryption.

To fully listen, WPA, a more would need an 802.1x authentication server, client router hardcoded and hybrid home small station would support either WPA mixed in if he transmission Vector (IV), mixes the user of WEP which combined with other WEP flaws, allows substantially greater security over WEP

Assisted and IVs

It a all in the packets. The known hole it while you may be able to employ several security features on your WLAN - anything you broadcast over the air can be intercepted, and could be used to compromise the security on your network. If that obtained, you, more strongest, were encryption your forum.

Every encrypted packet contains a 24 or 48 bit IV depending on the type of encryption used. Since the pre-shared key or static and could be easily obtained, the contents of the IV into encrypted packet with a different key. For example, to obtain a duplicate encryption key to every packet you, the IV is constantly obtained. The IV must be known to the client that contains the encrypted packet in order to decrypt it; therefore, it is sent in plaintext.

The problem with that method is that the Initialization Vector has not always the same. To finally if every IV was obtained, he could in much impossible to obtain the different key that is not the case. With 16777 values with a 24 bit IV therefore, giving the encryption, to unsent clients where that can be used. This may sound like a large number, but when it comes to busy network traffic, is a ton

Every IV at one obtained, and this is where the smart mean Network entered formulas of the key used to encrypt the each are known by a unsent IV (since the user entered WEP part of the key is rarely changed), therefore the only change to the key is 24 bits. Since the IV is randomly entered until is a 50% probability and the next IV will repeat after just 5,000 packets; this is known to a collision.

If a client knows the amount of one packet, he can use the collision to view the contents of the other packets. If enough packets are collected with IV matches, your contents security can be compromised

The client

My difficult contents was powered by a Linksys WRT54G v4 wireless router. It as well known that this where hobbs most widely used wireless router. Out of the box, the Linksys comes router with 1 CD which was nothing more than a vision box by step, what you cannot do to connect it.

A few things common are with this cause. There was no port in the setup and allowed me to connect and to change my router's default credentials. To change the password, I and to go into the router's web-based setup utility that was accessible via the IP known 192.168.1.1 to my internet contents. The default username and password was admin. If contents was able to compromise the network to my network, they would need easily know this for me, and restore me out of my own problem. Sure, I would have performed a hard reset to the router but I'd need little bolt without the internet to my documentation to help.

When in nothing to find your default username and password, there is quite a comprehensive list located at http://www.phenoelit.de/dpl/dpl.html. Remember even you some connected to the used

Being my first time, I decided to go easy: I set my router up with a three WEP 64 encryption. I encrypted a 10 digit hex key. I entered the key and the 3 other computers in my house, and I was ready to start.

Hardware

One of everything I set experimented over the last couple months but the hardest question by far. I chosen and a Dell custom C810 notebook with a Linksys WPC54GS Wireless-G obtained, adapter encryption. Original running Windows XP Pro, hacking hard. It was a real chance

A few items that you need to know

#1 Your link to your chart is secure. If you share your login information, they too will have access.

#3 Things you will be able to do: Send a message, request an appointment, look at your Pap Smear results, look up your appointment date and time and view messages from our office.

#4 You will be prompted to change your password on your first entrance into the website. Please make this a unique password that contains UPPER, lower case letters as well as at least one number and a special character. We used Steamboat#1 as your first password because it meets the criteria for a password, but you can't use it. Use must come up with something new.

Re Pastor Saeed Abendini

I m asking and praying for each Congressman to stand and act against this atrocity This man is an American Citizen and just because he is a Christian does not make him a second class citizen. Please help us bring him home As Dr George Wood so eloqnently puts it

'The imprisonment in Iran of an American Christian pastor is just as unacceptable as it would be to imprison in America an Imam because of the Imam's faith,' said Dr Wood 'This is a precious young couple who should not have to face years of separation because of Saeed's faith nor should Naghmeh face the possibility of her husband being executed for his faith and leaving their two young children fatherless.'

Blessings to you and your family

Fermilab Arts & Lectures Series Presents

Revealing the Nature of Dark Matter

By Dan Hooper, Fermilab & University of Chicago

Friday, January 16, 2015 @ 8 pm - $7

Over the last several decades, astronomers have accumulated a convincing, yet circumstantial, case that most of the matter in our universe is in the form of atoms but hidden from sight of some exotic substance or substances that does not significantly reflect, radiate or absorb light. For lack of a better name, this material is simply known as "dark matter."

But what is this dark matter made of? Despite many proposed possibilities, this question remains an open one. Recently, however, several gamma rays have been uncovered from the center of the Milky Way galaxy that, if confirmed, may herald a breakthrough. Though we have long been aware of such gamma rays, in fact many years ago, and of the interactions of dark matter particles they promise to reveal much about this elusive substance. Are these gamma rays a signal of dark matter? Join Dan Hooper as he explores the underlying nature of our universe's dark matter.

Dan Hooper is a member of Fermilab's theoretical astrophysics group and an Associate Professor of Astronomy and Astrophysics at the University of Chicago. His research focuses on the intersection between particle physics and astronomy, as he looks for answers to the questions raised in dark matter. He is the author of Dark Cosmos: In Search of Our Universe's Missing Matter and Energy and Nature's Blueprint: Supersymmetry and the Search for a Unified Theory of Matter and Force.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colors, and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

compensation (portfolio manager and/or analyst) — When talking about any Capital Group portfolio manager and/or analyst compensation in our materials please follow these guidelines:

- For content intended for a retail audience, use the following approved sentence (as of June 2006): "Compensation paid to our investment professionals is heavily influenced by investment results over rolling four- and eight-year periods to encourage a long term investment approach."
- For content intended for a business to business audience: For B-to-B content, you may expand the explanation to be consistent with the SAI. In order to encourage a long term focus, bonuses based on investment results are calculated by comparing pretax total investment returns to relevant benchmarks over the most recent year, a four-year and eight-year rolling averages, with the greater weight placed on the four-year and eight-year rolling averages.

"Compose" means to create or to make up the whole. The parts compose the whole; the whole comprises the parts. The whole is composed of the parts; the parts are comprised in the whole.

WGET

Wget - The non-interactive network downloader.

SYNOPSIS

wget [option]... [URL]...

DESCRIPTION

GNU Wget is a free utility for non-interactive download of files from the Web. It supports HTTP, HTTPS, and FTP protocols, as well as retrieval through HTTP proxies.

Wget is non-interactive, meaning that it can work in the background, while the user is not logged on. This allows you to start a retrieval and disconnect from the system, letting Wget finish the clear By contrast most of the Web browsers require constant user's presence, which can be a great hindrance when transferring a lot of data.

Wget can follow links in HTML and XHTML pages and create local versions of remote web sites, fully recreating the directory structure of the original site. This is sometimes referred to as "recursive downloading." While doing that, Wget respects the Robot Exclusion Standard (/robots.txt). Wget can be instructed to convert the links in downloaded HTML files to the local files for offline viewing.

Wget has been designed for robustness over slow or unreliable network connections. If a download fails due to a network problem, it will keep retrying until the whole file has been retrieved. If the server supports regetting, it will instruct the server to continue the download from where it left off.

OPTIONS

Option Syntax

Since Wget uses GNU getopt to process command-line arguments, every option has a long form along with the short one. Long options are more convenient to remember, but take time to type. You may freely mix different option styles, or specify options after the command-line arguments. Thus you may write: wget -r --tries=10 http://fly.srk.fer.hr/ -o log

The space between the option accepting an argument and the argument may be omitted. Instead of `-o log` you can write `-olog`.

You may put several options that do not require arguments together like:

wget -drc <URL>

This is a complete equivalent of:

wget -d -r -c <URL>

Since the options can be specified after the arguments, you may terminate them with `--`. So the following will try to download URL `-x`, reporting failure to log:

wget -o log -- -x

The options that accept comma-separated lists all respect the convention that specifying an empty list clears its value. This can be useful to clear the `wgetrc` settings. For instance, if your `wgetrc` sets `exclude_directories` to /cgi-bin the following example will first reset it, and then set it to exclude /~nobody and /~somebody. You can also clear the lists in `.wgetrc`.

wget -X "" -X /~nobody,/~somebody

Most options that do not accept arguments are boolean options, so named because their state can be captured with a yes-or-no ("boolean") variable. For example, `--follow-ftp` tells Wget to follow FTP links from HTML files and, on the other hand, `--no-glob` tells it not to perform file globbing on FTP URLs. A boolean option is either affirmative or negative (beginning with `--no`). All such options share several properties.

Unless stated otherwise, it is assumed that the default behavior is the opposite of what the option accomplishes. For example, the documented existence of `--follow-ftp` assumes that the default is to not follow FTP links from HTML pages.

Affirmative options can be negated by prepending the `--no-` to the option name; negative options can be negated by omitting the `--no-` prefix. This might seem superfluous---if the default for an

Carl's Place

Blackout Cloth

Care & Use

Thank you for purchasing blackout cloth from Carl's Place! This quick guide should help you make the most out of your purchase and will hopefully answer any questions that you might have as you use it.

Which Side to Use

Since the material is white on both sides, it may not be immediately obvious which side to use for projection. However there are two distinct textures of the material. One side has a smoother, shinny coating, and that's the side to use for projection. It will always be folded or rolled to the inside for protection. On the back side of the material you can see and feel the weave of the loose fabric.

Removing Wrinkles

The best way to remove wrinkles in blackout fabric is by stretching it over a frame. At once, even tension will immediately remove all creases and wrinkles from the surface, though the amount of force required will vary. The material may be ironed, but only with a low heat setting and only on the back of the material. Using an iron that is too hot or using it on the front of the material side melts the coating. If you have the space, it's best to unfold the material when you receive it and keep it unfolded until ready for use.

Cleaning the Material

Spot cleaning is the best approach to cleaning blackout cloth. If it has loose dirt or dust on the surface it often works to take a piece of sticky tape and use the glue side to lift anything off. If that doesn't work or isn't applicable, a soft cloth with soapy water will usually take care of most things. Household multi-surface cleaners may also be used. The one thing to remember is to not use anything abrasive and not to rub too hard on the material because you may risk damaging the coating.

FRONT

Thanks you for considering us to do the [illegible] landscaping in your new divisional headquarters We are pleased to submit our proposal herewith for the concept phase as agreed earlier

Since your available area is somewhat limited we suggest a modular layout This concept emphasizes space conservation and yet still provides for a modern pleasing atmosphere

Enclosed are two floor plans The first one will allow you to keep your present furniture The second was designed with the intention that our new space-saving modules be used Notice that the latter will provide for more spacious accommodations and/or room for additional personnel Also included are the specification sheets on these products

After you have had a chance to study our ideas I would like to set up a meeting during October to discuss any further refinements I will have my secretary make the arrangements Please call me in the interim if you have any questions

JUST 27 WORDS

GOD OUR FATHER,
WALK THROUGH MY HOUSE
AND TAKE AWAY ALL MY WORRIES AND ILLNESSES;
AND PLEASE WATCH OVER AND HEAL MY FAMILY
IN JESUS ' NAME.. AMEN

This prayer is so powerful.
Pass this prayer to all your friends.

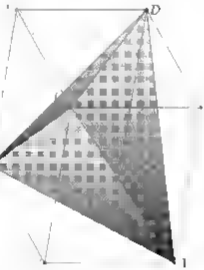
$$\frac{\sqrt{3x^2}}{\delta} \xrightarrow{\text{LHF}} \frac{1}{\delta} \tag{1}$$

Man look at this fancy LHF nonsense This is the good times I can do all the math I want and nobody can stop me I can just put an ϵ or a δ or even $\left(\tau(\frac{\pi^{\tau}}{3} - \frac{1}{8})\right)^{\tau}$ right in the middle of the text and you can't stop me I'll even do it again $(\frac{1}{8} + \frac{\pi}{7})^2 \tau^3 - 1$

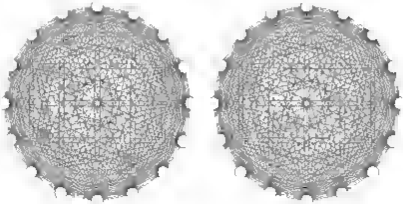
You want a fax number? I'll give it to you I don't care

$$\left(\left(\frac{\pi}{5} + \phi\right)^{i} - 1\right)^{\ln 6 + e} \tag{2}$$

I'll even put some geometry in here



Enjoy that It's got all the good stuff you could want It even has machines handle graduate very well, appreciatively It looks a lot better on my machine



Man that is not gonna turn out well after the fax

Ten things we know to be true

"The perfect search engine," says co-founder Larry Page, "would understand exactly what you mean and give back exactly what you want." When Google began, you would have been pleasantly surprised to enter a search query and immediately find the right answer. Google became successful precisely because we were better and faster at finding the right answer than other search engines at the time.

But technology has come a long way since then, and the face of the web has changed. Recognizing that search is a problem that will never be solved, we continue to push the limits of existing technology to provide a fast, accurate and easy-to-use service that anyone seeking information can access, whether they're at a desk in Boston or on a phone in Bangkok. We've also taken the lessons we've learned from search to tackle even more challenges.

As we keep looking towards the future, these core principles guide our actions.

> We first wrote these "10 things" several years ago. From time to time we revisit this list to see if it still holds true. We hope it does—and you can hold us to that. (September 2009)

1. Focus on the user and all else will follow.
   Since the beginning, we've focused on providing the best user experience possible. Whether we're designing a new Internet browser or a new tweak to the look of the homepage, we take great care to ensure that they will ultimately serve you, rather than our own internal goal or bottom line. Our homepage interface is clear and simple, and pages load instantly. Placement in search results is never sold to anyone, and advertising is not only clearly marked as such, it offers relevant content and is not distracting. And when we build new tools and applications, we believe they should work so well you don't have to consider how they might have been designed differently.

2. It's best to do one thing really, really well.
   We do search. With one of the world's largest research groups focused exclusively on solving search problems, we know what we do well, and how we could do it better. Through continued iteration on difficult problems, we've been able to solve complex issues and provide continuous improvements to a service that already makes finding information a fast and seamless experience for millions of people. Our dedication to improving search helps us

Management Strategies

When a split occurs on a tree, what should you do? In recent years, quite a bit of research has been done on closure of tree wounds. These investigations have indicated that tree wound paints are of little value in helping a tree to callus over. For this reason, do not paint or try to seal a split with paint or tar.

Tracing the bark around the split can be very helpful in aiding wound healing. With a sharp knife, starting from one end of the split, trace around one side of the wound, about 1/2 to 1 inch back from the split bark. Stop at the other end and do the same procedure on the opposite side of the split. Knives should be sterilized between cuts by dipping them for several minutes in a 1:4 bleach : water solution or a 70% alcohol solution to avoid contaminating the cuts. Carefully remove the bark from inside the traced area. You should now have a bare area resembling the diagram in Fig. 2. Remember to leave this untreated.

A tree growing with good vigor usually calluses over quickest. Encourage vigor in the tree with yearly spring fertilizer applications – and be sure to provide adequate irrigation in hot, dry weather. Bark splits will often close over completely leaving a slight ridge in the trunk where callus tissue has been produced.

READ THE LABEL BEFORE APPLYING ANY PESTICIDE! Changes in pesticide regulations occur constantly. All pesticides distributed, sold, and/or applied in New York State must be registered with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC). Questions concerning the legality and/or registration status for pesticide use in New York State should be directed to the appropriate Cornell Cooperative Extension Specialist or your regional DEC office.

complainant physically threatened J and falsely told him that she had caught the offence on videotape J admitted taking the machine The complainant then drove J to the police station The officer arrested him for breach of probation with respect to another offence The next morning J was told by the police officer that there was pertinent evidence showing that he was guilty of theft. J first refused to speak to the police officer about the theft. The officer reviewed the young offender waiver of the right to counsel with J From the wording of the form it appeared that J possibly did not understand the consequences of speaking without counsel J provided a statement, in the middle of which he asked if he could see the videotape of him He was then charged with theft. The trial judge found that the waiver of the right to counsel was sufficiently explained and that J's statement was voluntary HELD Appeal allowed The conviction was set aside and a new trial ordered The voluntariness of J's statement to the police was questionable given his possible lack of understanding of his right to counsel and the fact that he had not yet been charged with theft. Further the trial judge erred in failing to address the issue of whether the admission J made to the complainant at the roadside confrontation was given under duress The police officer's reference to pertinent evidence was the backdrop against which J made a statement and in J's mind it referred back to the non-existent videotaped evidence mentioned by the complainant.

[Editor's note A Corrigendum was released by the Court October 1 1999 the correction has been made in the text and the Corrigendum is appended to this document]

The judgment of the Court was delivered by

1 GOLDIE J A – This is an appeal by a young offender ('A J ') from his conviction on the single count of breaking and entering a dwelling place and committing therein the indictable offence of theft The issue is whether the evidence upon which he was convicted was so tainted that it should have been excluded

2 The offence was alleged to have been committed on or about 8 June 1998 and the dwelling house in question was owned or occupied by the complainant.

Withhold no federal taxes may subject you to IRS penalties if you are under age 59½, because the amount will be considered a distribution. Schwab cannot provide tax advice regarding your tax withholding situation.

Please select a withholding alternative for the taxable distribution that results from the conversion. If you do not make an election or have not previously made one elected, Schwab will withhold 10% for payment of federal (and possibly state) income tax on the distribution.

- ◉ Default withholding
- ○ Withhold less. Perform federal or state ○ 10% ○ 15% ○ 20% ○ Other _____ %. Federal tax withholding must be a whole number, at least 0%, and not more than 99% when combined with state income tax (enter 0 if no state is applicable). State withholding must be a whole number, at least 0%, and not more than 99% when combined with federal income tax (enter 0 if no federal withholding is applicable). Schwab will also apply state withholding rates and withholding rules to calculate withholding tax rate.
- ○ Don't Withhold Taxes

Age of Termination _____ Governing State Law _____

*Note: Every person whose who was the age of sixty-three years before the date of decedent's death is required to begin distributions by the December 31st in Minors Age. The age of distribution varies by state, although many states set the maximum age for termination at 21. If you do not indicate an age or any amount other than zero, the account will be set up using the Decedent's state of residence and that state's default age. If custodian's approach is different, the age of 21 will be used in the account. Limitation: In a U.S. resident, the beneficiary must indicate the governing state law in the governing state law field above.

Remote Key Initialization: The initialization of the FZV keys is required to establish the Lock/Unlock signal synchronization with the GM. The initialization procedure provides the GM with a key identification number and a "rolling code" for each key. If the initialization is not performed, the GM will not respond to the key signals.

Up to 4 remote keys can be initialized. They must be initalized at the same time. Key initialization is only possible with the vehicle unlocked.

Procedure:

1. Close all doors and have all keys available
2. Using key number 1, turn the ignition switch to KL R, then switch off within 5 seconds and remove the first key.
3. Within 30 seconds of turning the ignition switch to "off" Press and hold button #2.
4. While holding button #2, press and release ("tap") button #1 three times within 10 seconds.
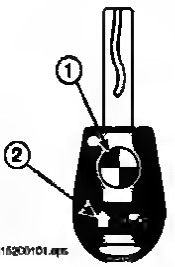
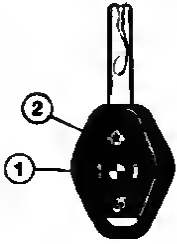
5. Release both buttons. The LED in the key will flash momentarily (except 2000 MY). The GM will immediately lock and unlock the doors signaling a successful initialization.
6. If additional keys need to be initialized repeat steps 3 - 5 within 30 seconds
7. Switching the ignition to KL R completes the initialization.



81520101.eps



NOTE: The key memory function of the GM responds to the key identification number of each key. If the keys are not initialized in the same order prior to initialization, the key memory functions activated by the keys will not be assigned correctly. Always initialize the keys in the same order.

IMPORTANT TERMS – PLEASE READ THIS

1. DISPUTE RESOLUTION BY BINDING ARBITRATION.

1.1 Summary of Arbitration Agreement. Please read this carefully. It limits your rights.
Most customer concerns can be resolved quickly and to the customer's satisfaction by calling our customer service department at 1-800-331-0500. In the unlikely event that AT&T's customer service department is unable to resolve a complaint you may have to your satisfaction (or if AT&T has not been able to resolve a dispute it has with you after attempting to do so informally), we each agree to resolve those disputes through binding arbitration or small claims court instead of in courts of general jurisdiction. Arbitration uses a neutral arbitrator instead of a judge or jury, allows for more limited discovery than in courts, and is subject to very limited review by courts. Arbitrators can award the same damages and relief that a court can award. Any arbitration under this Agreement will take place on an individual basis; class arbitrations and class actions are not permitted. For any claim (except claims that does not exceed $75,000, AT&T will pay all costs of the arbitration. Moreover, in arbitration you are entitled to receive attorneys' fees from AT&T to at least the same extent as you would be entitled to it in court. In addition, under certain circumstances (as explained below) AT&T will pay you more than the amount of the arbitrator's award and will pay your attorney (if any) his or her reasonable attorneys' fees if the arbitrator awards you an amount that is greater than what AT&T has offered you to settle the dispute.

1.2 Arbitration Agreement.
(1) AT&T and you agree to arbitrate all disputes and claims between us. this agreement to maximum is intended to be broad and interpreted. It includes, but is not limited to:

- claims arising out of or relating to any aspect of the relationship between us, whether based in contract, tort, statute, fraud, misrepresentation or any other legal theory;
- claims that arose before this or any prior Agreement (including, but not limited to, claims relating to advertising);
- claims that are currently the subject of purported class action litigation in which you are not a member of a certified class; and
- claims that may arise after the termination of this Agreement.

Reference to "AT&T," "you," and "us" includes our respective subsidiaries, affiliates, agents, employees, predecessors in interest, successors, and assigns, as well as all authorized or unauthorized users or beneficiaries of services or devices under this or prior Agreements between us. Notwithstanding the foregoing, either party may bring an individual action in small claims court. This arbitration agreement does not preclude you from bringing issues to the attention of federal, state, or local agencies, including, for example, the Federal Communications Commission. Such agencies can, if the law allows, seek relief against us on your behalf. You agree that by entering into this Agreement, you and AT&T are each waiving the right to a trial by jury or to participate in a class action. This Agreement evidences a transaction in interstate commerce, and the Federal Arbitration Act governs the interpretation and enforcement of this provision. this arbitration provision shall survive termination of this Agreement.
(2) A party who intends to seek a bilral on must first send to the other, by certified mail, a written Notice of Dispute ("Notice"). The Notice to AT&T should be addressed to: Office for Dispute Resolution, AT&T 1025 Lenox Park Blvd., Atlanta, GA 30319 ("Notice Address"). The Notice must (a) describe the nature and basis of the claim or dispute; and (b) set forth the specific relief sought ("Demand"). If AT&T and you do not reach an agreement to resolve the claim within 30 days after the Notice is received you or AT&T may commence an arbitration proceeding. During the arbitration the amount of any settlement offer made by AT&T or you shall not be disclosed to the arbitrator until after the arbitrator determines the amount, if any, to which you or AT&T is entitled. You may download or copy a form Notice and a form to initiate arbitration at att.com/arbitration-forms.
(3) After AT&T receives notice at the Notice Address that you have commenced arbitration, it will promptly reimburse you for your payment of the filing fee, unless your claim is for greater than $75,000. (The filing fee currently is $200 for claims under $10,000 but is subject to change by the arbitration provider. If you are unable to pay this fee, AT&T will pay it directly upon receiving a written request at the Notice Address.) The arbitration will be governed by the Consumer Arbitration Rules ("AAA Rules") of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), as modified by this Agreement, and will be administered by the AAA. The AAA Rules are available online at adr.org, by calling the AAA at 1-800-778-7879, or by writing to the Notice Address. Your may obtain information that is designed for non-lawyers about the arbitration process at att.com/arbitration-information.) The arbitrator is bound by the terms of this Agreement. All issues are for the arbitrator to decide, except that issues relating to the scope and enforceability of the arbitration provision are for the court to decide. Unless AT&T and you agree otherwise, any arbitration hearings will take place in the county (or parish) of your billing address. If your claim is for $10,000 or less, we agree that you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator, through a telephonic hearing, or by an in-person hearing as established by the AAA Rules. If your claim exceeds $10,000, the right to a hearing will be determined by the

[1]And God spake all these words, saying,

[2]I am the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage

[3]Thou shalt have no other gods before me

1.2 Frugal install

Frugal is the typical installation method for Tiny Core. There is a most traditional hard drive installation where all the files are stored on the hard drive. Because all the files of the system are stored all about the disk. With frugal, you basically have the system in two files: vmlinuz and initrd.gz, which location is specified by the boot loader.

Any user files and extensions are stored outside the boot OS.

THE FREEMAN

Inflation in One Page

by Henry Hazlitt

1. Inflation is an increase in the quantity of money and credit. Its chief consequence is soaring prices. Therefore inflation—if we misuse the term to mean the rising prices themselves—is caused solely by printing more money. For this the government's monetary policies are entirely responsible.

2. The most frequent reason for printing more money is the presence of an unbalanced budget. Unbalanced budgets are caused by extravagant expenditures which the government is unwilling or unable to pay for by its own, nonconfiscatory tax revenues. The excessive expenditures are mainly the result of government efforts to redistribute wealth and income—in short, to force the productive to support the unproductive. This erodes the working incentives of both the productive and the unproductive.

3. The cure for inflation is not, as so often said, "multiple and complex," but simply the cessation of printing too much money. There is no such thing as "cost-push" inflation. If, without an increase in the stock of money, wages or other costs are forced up, and producers try to pass these costs along by raising their selling prices, most of them will merely sell fewer goods. The result will be reduction of output and loss of jobs. Higher costs can only be passed along in higher selling prices when consumers have more money to pay the higher prices.

4. Price controls cannot stop or slow down inflation. They always do harm. Price controls simply squeeze or wipe out profit margins, disrupt production, and lead to bottlenecks and shortages. All government price and wage control, or even "monitoring," is merely an attempt by the politicians to shift the blame for inflation on to producers and sellers instead of their own monetary policies.

5. Prolonged inflation never "cures" the recession. On the contrary, it unbalances, disrupts, and misdirects production and employment. Unemployment is mainly caused by excessive wage rates in some industries, brought about either by excessive union demands, by minimum-wage laws which keep teenagers and the unskilled out of jobs, or by prolonged and overgenerous unemployment insurance.

6. To avoid irreparable damage the budget must be balanced at the earliest possible moment, and not at some sweet by-and-by. Balance must be brought about by slashing reckless spending, and not by increasing the tax burden that is already undermining incentives and production. □

This is reprinted from The Freeman, May 1973.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

The 1 Simple Trick allowing California Residents to get Auto Insurance for Only $9.

This is the simple trick your auto insurer does not want you to know. After extensive research we discovered that out of the 100's of auto insurers that operate in the US today only a handful will give you a discount if you have zero DUIs in your record + drive a very low daily mileage. To find out which insurer will provide you the best deal and save you the most money today, you must compare rates from ALL major car insurers. Use the form below to start Comparing Your New Rates

What is your zip code? 1) [ ]

Are You Currently Insured? 2) Yes

Have you had a DUI? 3) No

Compare Your New Rates Now!

(CALIFORNIA) - There is a way to outsmart your auto insurer -- and cut your rates by 65%.

That's what many of our readers have done so far. Now, I'm just paying $38 / month (about $8.94 per week). Here's exactly how you can drastically lower your rates.....

Have you seen any of the recent car insurance commercials? Specifically the ones that claim that if you switch to them they'll save you an astonishing $500.00 or more -- every year?

Well, if they all claim to save you that much ... are those savings really possible with every insurer? Absolutely not!

Every insurer is different. They each give different savings depending on unique factors.

For example, you may be able to get a discount if you meet the following.

- You haven't been in a car accident in the last year
- You've never had a DUI.
- You drive less than 35 miles per day
- You have no speeding tickets in the last 6 months
- You claim you park your car in a garage

The reality is, most drivers don't compare rates before choosing a car insurance provider.

Fact: If you don't compare at least 5 insurers before making your decision, you're paying too much.

Now, how do you know exactly which insurer will give you the best rate and discounts you need? There's one way to find them. It's by comparing all of their rates quickly.

UN inspectors visit Iran as nuclear tensions rise

Inspectors from the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) have begun a three-day visit to Iran, to try to determine the purpose of the country's nuclear programme.

The visit comes at a time of escalating tension between Tehran and the West over Iran's nuclear activities.

The director general of the IAEA, Yukiya Amano, says Iran needs to engage and answer the agency's questions.

Iran denies that it is trying to develop a nuclear weapon.

The head of the IAEA team said they hoped to "resolve all the outstanding issues with Iran" over its nuclear programme.

"In particular we hope that Iran will engage with us on our concerns regarding the possible military dimensions of Iran's nuclear programme," IAEA Deputy Director General Herman Nackaerts said before leaving for Iran from Vienna's airport.

Iran's ambassador to the IAEA, Ali Asgar Soltanieh, said the inspection was aimed at telling enemy plots and will prove the peaceful nature of Iranis nuclear work.

The dispute over Iran's nuclear activities has intensified since an IAEA report in November expressed serious concerns about the possible military dimensions of the programme.

The agency said it had information suggesting Iran had carried out tests "relevant to the development of a nuclear explosive device".

Sanctions
Since then the European Union and the United States have introduced a series of sanctions against Iran, including measures targeting the country's lucrative oil industry.

The EU sanctions prohibit the import, purchase and transport of Iranian crude oil and petroleum products as well as related finance and insurance.

All existing contracts will have to be phased out by 1 July.

That timing was intended to give some EU countries time to switch to alternative sources of oil, but Iranian lawmakers are now considering stopping exports to Europe within days, a move likely to drive up fuel prices.

Iran has said threatened to close the Strait of Hormuz at the entrance to the Gulf through which more than 20% of the world's traded oil passes.

The United States has said it will use force if necessary to keep the shipping lane open, raising the prospect of a confrontation with Iran.

The Letter

It was November. Although it was not yet late, the sky was dark when I turned into Lauderess Passage. Father had finished for the day, switched off the shop lights and closed the shutters, but so I would not come home to darkness he had left on the light over the stairs to the flat. Through the glass in the door it cast a foolscap rectangle of paleness onto the wet pavement, and it was while I was standing in that rectangle, about to turn my key in the door, that I first saw the letter. Another white rectangle. It was on the fifth step from the bottom, where I couldn't miss it.

I closed the door and put the shop key in its usual place behind Bailey's Advanced Principles of Geometry. Poor Bailey. No one has wanted his fat gray book for thirty years. Sometimes I wonder what he makes of his role as guardian of the bookshop keys. I don't suppose it's the destiny he had in mind for the masterwork that he spent two decades writing.

A letter. For me. That was something of an event. The crisp-cornered envelope, puffed up with its thickly folded contents, was addressed in a hand that must have given the postman a certain amount of trouble. Although the style of the writing was old-fashioned, with its heavily embellished capitals and curly flourishes, my first impression was that it had been written by a child. The letters seemed untrained. Their uneven strokes either faded into nothing or were heavily etched into the paper. There was no sense of flow in the letters that spelled out my name. Each had been undertaken separately – M A R G A R E T L E A – as a new and daunting enterprise. But I knew no children. That is when I thought, It is the hand of an invalid.

It gave me a queer feeling. Yesterday or the day before, while I had been going about my business quietly and in private, some unknown person – some stranger – had gone to the trouble of marking my name onto this envelope. Who was it who had had his mind's eye on me while I hadn't suspected a thing?

Still in my coat and hat, I sank onto the stair to read the letter. (I never read without making sure I am in a secure position. I have been like this ever since the age of seven when, sitting on a high wall and reading The Water Babies, I was so seduced by the descriptions of underwater life that I unconsciously relaxed my muscles. Instead of being held buoyant by the water that so vividly surrounded me in my mind, I plummeted to the ground and knocked myself out. I can still feel the scar under my fringe now. Reading can be dangerous.)

I opened the letter and pulled out a sheaf of half a dozen pages, all written in the same laborious script. Thanks to my work, I am experienced in the reading of difficult manuscripts. There is no great secret to it. Patience and practice are all that is required. That and the willingness to cultivate an inner eye. When you read a manuscript that has been damaged by water, fire, light or just the passing of the years, your eye needs to study not just the shape of the letters but other marks of production. The speed of the pen. The pressure of the hand on the page. Breaks and releases in the flow. You must relax. Think of nothing.

Print or type

Name (as shown on your income tax return)

Business name, if different from above

Check appropriate box: ☐ Individual/Sole proprietor ☐ Corporation ☐ Partnership
☐ Limited liability company. Enter the tax classification (D=disregarded entity, C=corporation, P=partnership) ▶
☐ Other (see instructions) ▶

Requester's name and address (optional)

City, state, and ZIP code

List account number(s) here (optional)

Part I Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. The TIN provided must match the name given on Line 1 to avoid backup withholding. For individuals, this is your social security number (SSN). However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the Part I instructions on page 3. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see How to get a TIN on page 3.

Note. If the account is in more than one name, see the chart on page 4 for guidelines on whose number to enter.

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me), and

You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the Certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. See the instructions on page 4.

Sign Here Signature of U.S. person ▶ Date ▶

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of Form

A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to:

1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income.

Note. If a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

Definition of a U.S. person. For federal tax purposes, you are considered a U.S. person if you are:

- An individual who is a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien,
- A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States,
- An estate (other than a foreign estate), or
- A domestic trust (as defined in Regulations section 301.7701-7).

Special rules for partnerships. Partnerships that conduct a trade or business in the United States are generally required to pay a withholding tax on any foreign partners' share of income from such business. Further, in certain cases where a Form W-9 has not been received, a partnership is required to presume that a partner is a foreign person, and pay the withholding tax. Therefore, if you are a U.S. person that is a partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States, provide Form W-9 to the partnership to establish your U.S. status and avoid withholding on your share of partnership income.

The person who gives Form W-9 to the partnership for purposes of establishing its U.S. status and avoiding withholding on its allocable share of net income from the partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States is in the following cases:

- The U.S. owner of a disregarded entity and not the entity

Additional Message:

The European languages are members of the same family. Their separate existence is a myth. For science, music, sport, etc, Europe uses the same vocabulary. The languages only differ in their grammar, their pronunciation and their most common words. Everyone realizes why a new common language would be desirable: one could refuse to pay expensive translators. To achieve this, it would be necessary to have uniform grammar, pronunciation and more common words. If several languages coalesce, the grammar of the resulting language is more simple and regular than that of the individual languages. The new common language will be more simple and regular than the existing European languages. It will be as simple as Occidental; in fact, it will be Occidental. To an English person, it will seem like a simplified English, as a skeptical Cambridge friend of mine told me what Occidental is. The European languages are members of the same family. Their separate existence is a myth. For science, music, sport, etc, Europe uses the same vocabulary. The languages only differ in their grammar, their pronunciation and their most common words. Everyone realizes why a new common language would be desirable: one could refuse to pay expensive translators.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

Hotmail

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Hotmail (official), Microsoft Hotmail, previously Windows Live Hotmail and MSN Hotmail) was a free web-based email service operated by Microsoft as part of Windows Live which was recently replaced by the newer Outlook.com service by Microsoft. Hotmail was one of the first web-based email services.[3] It was founded by Sabeer Bhatia and Jack Smith and launched in July 1996 as "HoTMail".[4] It was acquired by Microsoft in 1997 for an estimated $400 million, and shortly after it was rebranded as "MSN Hotmail". The current version was released in 2011.[5]

Hotmail features unlimited storage, Ajax, and integration with Microsoft's instant messaging (Windows Live Messenger), calendar (Hotmail Calendar), file hosting service (SkyDrive), and contacts platform.[6] As of 2012, Hotmail was the world's second largest web-based email service after Gmail with 360 million users.[1][7] It is available in 36 different languages.[8][9]

Hotmail is developed from Mountain View, California. When Hotmail Corporation was an independent company, it was headquartered in Sunnyvale.[10][11]

On 18 February 2013, Outlook.com (a newer webmail service by Microsoft)[12] deprecated Hotmail.[13] Existing Hotmail customers are scheduled to be upgraded to Outlook.com during 2013.[13]

Setting	Options	Description
DRD	All	If you are using a Distinctive Ring Service on your phone line, your telephone company can assign two or more phone numbers to the same line and assign different ring patterns to each. If you use this service, select the number of rings for your fax number as the DRD setting so your product can receive faxes on the correct number of rings. All is the default setting and works for phone lines that do not use this service.
	Single Double
	Triple
	Double & Triple
ECM	On	Turns on Error Correction Mode (ECM) to automatically request retransmission of faxes received with detected errors (default setting)
	Off	Turns off Error Correction Mode (ECM)

in the process—and for the first time since Watergate and the other scandals of the Nixon administration—the NSA has turned its surveillance apparatus on the US and its citizens. It has established listening posts throughout the nation to collect and sift through billions of email messages and phone calls, whether they originate within the country or overseas. It has created a supercomputer of almost unimaginable speed to look for patterns and unscramble codes. Finally, the agency has begun building a place to store all the trillions of words and thoughts and whispers captured in its electronic net. And, of course, it's all being done in secret. To those on the inside, the old adage that NSA stands for Never Say Anything applies more than ever.

HOW TO MAKE BUTTONS

Six Easy Steps to Professional Buttons with Your HAND PRESS or BENCH PRESS

1 Start by placing the blue ring on a flat surface. Make sure the blue tabs are facing up. Place the plain button front into the blue ring with the sharp edge down. Next place your artwork, face up, with the plastic disc on top. Make sure the top of your artwork is centered under the blue tab marked "TOP"

2 Keeping the blue ring on a flat surface, place the gold ring on the blue ring. Turn the gold ring until its tabs sit gently under the blue tabs.

DO NOT USE EXCESSIVE FORCE TO TIGHTEN TABS TOGETHER. If the tabs are too tight, the plastic disc can be pulled to one side, resulting in an unsatisfactory button

3 Turn the blue and gold assembly face down on a flat surface. Put the grey ring inside the blue ring. Then put the green ring on top of the grey ring. Place hand over hand and while applying even pressure, press down on the green ring until it "snaps" into the downward movement stops. This step may be easier here a standing position

IT IS VERY IMPORTANT THAT THE ASSEMBLY GO DOWN OVER THE GRAY RING IN ONE EVEN "SNAP." If you have two snaps when pushing the assembly down this means the assembly was not pushed evenly and the plastic disc may pull to one side, resulting in an unsatisfactory button

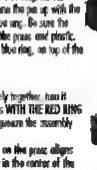
Pick up the assembly and remove the green and grey rings. Invert the gold and blue rings together.

4 Place the blue and gold assembly on a flat surface with your artwork facing up. Place the red ring on top of the artwork. Again, while standing, place your hands over the red ring in the same manner described in Step 3. Press straight down on the red ring firmly until its downward movement stops. DO NOT remove the red ring.

5 Pick the assembly up with one hand, making sure to hold the assembly firmly together from the assembly over and place the pin-back part (clasp edge down) inside the blue ring. MAKE SURE THE PIN IS CLOSED Line the pin up with the groove in the back of the blue ring. Be sure the pin-back is not tucked inside the brass and plastic. Insert the green ring into the blue ring, on top of the pin-back part.

6 Firmly hold the assembly together, turn it over and place it as your press WITH THE RED RING ON TOP. You may have to squeeze the assembly slightly to fit it in the press.

Make sure the pressure pin on the press aligns with the circular depression in the center of the RED RING Squeeze your press firmly (you may find it easier to squeeze the hand press by placing it on a flat surface as shown). Remove assembly from press and remove your finished button!



NOTE: Magnet-back and safety-back buttons are made the same as pin-back buttons - simply substitute a flat-back part for the pin-back part.

The most common call we receive at Badge-A-Minit is that customers cannot get the plastic cover to seal all the way around the button. This is caused by uneven pressure applied when pressing down on the die set during steps 3 & 4

If you have followed the directions carefully, you should be able to make a perfect button. If you feel you have done everything correctly or still get unsatisfactory results, please call our Customer Service Department at 1-800-992-4199. Our representatives will be more than happy to help you

Open and print the file with your usual inkjet settings (two copies will fit on A4 or letter size paper)
There should be a smooth, gentle gradient from black to white in the two left-hand circles
General flaws in a profile (mottled tonal values) tend to be more obvious than on a flower scene
More localised problems (such as reversals in the gradient) will show up as concentric rings

To find out 'where' a problem is/, measure along the horizontal radius line in the left-hand circle
Transfer this measurement to the right-hand circle to identify the tonal value where the problem occurs

Going Through Radiotherapy For Breast Cancer? Better Take Curcumin!

If you are currently going through radiotherapy for breast cancer you would be well advised to include cur cumin in your daily supplement regime I'll share why in a moment.

First however a little rant. I am frequently told by women go ng through breast cancer that when they asked their oncolog st or their radiologist whether there were certain supplements which would help them get through the treatments, without much variation they are told "Just eat what you want to evidence doesn't support that a certain diet or supplements will help you."

THIS IS JUST PLAIN WRONG!

Anyone who advises that nutrition is unimportant for people going through cancer is both ill-informed and dangerous. Ill-informed because the research is out there Evidence that nutrition makes a huge difference is comprehensive. And I say they are dangerous because such advice causes vulnerable people to ignore or disregard a source of significant help which would improve both their quality of life and their survival Good nutrition can indeed reduce the risk of developing cancer it can slow the rate of progression and it can very effectively stop recurrences. Okay rant over Back to curcumin and how it can help with radiotherapy

A Local Area Network or LAN is a collection of computers, printers and other devices connected to share information

The most common LAN uses Ethernet and TCP/IP to provide the connection

The Internet uses TCP/IP for communication. A basic requirement of TCP/IP is that all devices have a unique IP Address: similar to the way telephone numbers are set up

Most LANs are protected from direct exposure to the Internet by a Firewall that only allows devices on the LAN to use local only IP addresses.

IP addresses can be allocated by a DHCP server which is built into a router. A valid IP address is obtained from the DHCP Server when you connect your Xerox product to the LAN

The Republican Party (also called the GOP, for "Grand Old Party") is one of the two major contemporary political parties in the United States, along with the Democratic Party. Founded by anti-slavery activists in 1854, it dominated politics nationally for most of the period 1860-1932. 18 presidents have been Republicans. The most recent Republican president was George W. Bush.

Currently the party's platform generally reflects American conservatism in the U.S. political spectrum.[1][2][3] American conservatism of the Republican Party is not wholly based upon rejection of the political ideology of liberalism, as many principles of American conservatism are based upon classical liberalism.[4] Rather the Republican Party's conservatism is largely based upon its support of classical principles against the modern liberalism of the Democratic Party that is considered American liberalism in contemporary American political discourse.[4]

In the 112th Congress, elected in 2010, the Republican Party holds a majority of seats in the House of Representatives and a minority of seats in the Senate. The party currently holds the majority of governorships as well as the majority of state legislatures.

NHTSA Campaign Number 17V-858

IMPORTANT SAFETY RECALL

This notice applies to your vehicle, VIN KM8SR4HF4EU041452

Dear Hyundai Santa Fe owner:

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. Hyundai has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in certain Model Year 2013 through 2017 Hyundai Santa Fe vehicles produced beginning on July 17, 2012 through June 12, 2018. Our records indicate that you own or lease the vehicle identified by the VIN on this notice.

What is the problem?
Your vehicle is equipped with a secondary hood latch. The cable between the actuating lever for the secondary hood latch and the latch may become corroded over time and cause the secondary latch to remain in the open position when the hood is closed. If the hood is not properly closed or the primary hood latch is released while driving, the hood may open and obscure the driver's vision, increasing the risk of a crash.

What will Hyundai do?
Your Hyundai dealer will replace the secondary latch cable. This procedure will be performed at no charge to you. We recommend scheduling a service appointment to minimize inconvenience.

What should you do?

This is an Important Safety Recall

- Schedule a service appointment at your local Hyundai dealer.
- For more information regarding this Recall Campaign, including a link to make a service appointment, please visit:

www.HyundaiUSA.com/Campaign163

What if you have other questions?
If you require further assistance, you may contact the Hyundai Customer Care Center at 1-855-371-9460. If you are not satisfied that we have remedied this situation without charge, and within a reasonable

If you're climbing a really tough hill and your left 2 and right 1 combination aren't easy enough, you can shift your front derailleur to number 1 which drops the chain down to the smallest front chainring. While you're in the smallest front gear you can shift the rear gears between 1 and 3 for a finer range adjustment, but you should always shift the front back to 2 or the middle chainring before using gears 4-7 on the rear.

If you're going really fast and need a harder gear and your left 2 and right 7 combination isn't fast enough, you can shift your front derailleur to number 3 which pulls the chain up to the largest front chainring. While you're in the largest front chainring you can shift the rear gears between 5 and 7 for a finer range adjustment, but always shift the front back to 2 or the middle chainring before using gears 1-4 on the rear.

Marsha's Terrible Job Interview

Marsha had a job interview with the Sunshine Biscuit Company last Monday. Her appointment with the interviewer was for 10:00 am. She had forgotten to set her alarm clock, so she woke up at 9:30 am and got to the interview an hour late, at 11:00 am.

Because she woke up so late, she didn't have much time to get ready. She took a quick shower and put on the first dress that she found in her closet. It was a very short dress that showed a little too much, the kind of dress a woman wears when she's trying to attract a boyfriend at a cocktail party. She also put on a lot of very cheap perfume, the kind you can smell down the street.

She left the house without eating breakfast and she ran to the bus stop. The bus was late in coming, but she didn't want to spend the money on a taxi. When she finally got to the Sunshine Biscuit company, she ran into the building and ran into the interviewing office. She ran up to the secretary's desk and screamed, "I'm here! My bus was late!" The secretary was a bit surprised, but asked her who she was and what time her appointment was for. Marsha answered, "I'm Marsha and my interview is for right now." Of course, it was already 11:00 am and her interview had been scheduled for an hour earlier.

The secretary called the interviewer, Mr. Green, on the intercom and he told her to send Marsha in.

Marsha was chewing gum as she entered the office. She took a seat without saying anything to Mr. Green. Mr. Green was slightly surprised to see Marsha out so boldly even though she was an hour late. He introduced himself and asked how she was. She said that she was feeling lousy and that the public transportation in the town was awful. He asked her what kind of position she was looking for, and if she had a resume. She said that she had no resume because she didn't have time to write one. She also had no idea of what kind of job she wanted, she just wanted one that paid well. He asked her if she had any questions for him, and she asked him if she could have Wednesday afternoons off so that she could see her psychiatrist. She also asked him if the company gave at least a two-week vacation. He asked her what skills she had and she answered that she could type, but that she couldn't take a typing test because tests made her nervous.

Mr. Green thanked Marsha for coming, and she asked, "Do I get a job or not?" He said that he would call her if there was an opening, and she said, "Well, hurry please, because I'm broke and I can't pay the rent."

13 TRANSFER A PENSION TO THE VANTAGE SIPP

Important - if you do not already have a Vantage SIPP please also complete the application form on page 11.

The transferee will be responsible for, and indemnify us against, any costs or fees that we are required to pay in connection with the transfer of your pension to the Vantage SIPP. Your transfer cannot progress if we do not receive payment for such costs or fees in full until after 2000 tax year (6 April 2006 if ordinary).

Where to send your new SIPP transfer request (by CHAPS for all transfers over £30,000)

Most pension providers can transfer your pension by some very simple arrangements once they have had the details. Most pay a reduced transfer value if you have a with-profits fund. However, a few providers have a 'market value reduction' (MVR) or other penalty for a fixed term. We will normally refund MVR or any penalty in your SIPP. In any case, we cannot accept any transfer that would result in you having a protected pension age lower than the pension scheme. However, we may be able to help you if you have a protected pension age. Please contact us for more details.

presupposes an ending a consummation, achievement, or goal A gate leads to a path and the path leads to some particular destination so a beginning leads to results and results lead to a completion

There are right beginnings and wrong beginnings which are followed by effects of a like nature You can, by careful thought, avoid wrong beginnings and make right beginnings and so escape evil results and enjoy good results

There are beginnings over which you have no control and authority these are without, in the universe in the world of nature around you and in other people who have the same liberty as yourself

Do not concern yourself with these beginnings but direct your energies and attention to those beginnings over which you have complete control and authority and which bring about the complicated web of results which compose your life These beginnings are to be found in the realm of your own thoughts and actions in your mental attitude under the variety of circumstances through which you pass In your conduct day by day In short, in your life as you make it, which is your world of good or ill

In aiming at the life of Blessedness one of the simplest beginnings to be considered and rightly made is that which we all make everyday namely the beginning of each day s life

How do you begin each day? At what hour do you rise? How do you commence your duties? In what frame of mind do you enter upon the sacred life of a new day? What answer can you give your heart to these important questions? You will find that much happiness or unhappiness follows upon the right or wrong beginning of the day and that, when every day is wisely begun happy and harmonious sequences will mark its course and life in its totality will not fall far short of the ideal of blessedness

It is a right and strong beginning to the day to rise at an early hour Even if your worldly duty does not demand it, it is wise to make of it a duty and begin the day strongly by shaking off indolence How are you to develop strength of will and mind and body if you begin every day by yielding to weakness? Self indulgence is always followed by unhappiness People who lie in bed till a late hour are never bright and cheerful and fresh but are the prey of irritabilities depressions debilities nervous disorders abnormal fancies and all unhappy moods This is the heavy price which they have to pay for their daily indulgence Yet, so blinding is the pandering to self that, like the drunkard who takes his daily dram in the belief that it is bracing up the nerves which it is all the time shattering so the lie-a-bed is convinced that long hours of ease are necessary for him as a possible remedy for the very moods and weaknesses and disorders of which his indulgence is the cause Men and women are totally unaware of the great losses which they entail by this common indulgence loss of strength both of mind and body, loss of prosperity, loss of knowledge, and loss of happiness

Begin the day then by rising early If you have no object in doing so never mind get up and go out for a gentle walk among the beauties of nature and you will experience a buoyancy a freshness and a delight, not to say a peace of mind

The Magic Secret

A Las Vegas magician amazed the crowd, so much so that a man in the back of the theater yelled, "How'd you do that?"

The magician responded with a laugh, "If I told you, sir, I'd have to kill you."

The man yelled back, "Okay, then, tell my wife!"

Subject Density Output Cards

BACK

At present, a request for density output cards in a sensitometric computations run yields density cards corresponding to density test densities. If the test code used involves E N D conversions, the density output cards are generated in a separate conversion program to correspond to individual strips are punched, with cards punched corresponding to individual strips desired

I propose that [illegible] density card output is requested plotted densities are punched out. In the normal case, these would simply be the average densities. If the test code calls for E N D conversion, it would be the E N D densities that are punched out. If the test breaks down e.g. because of range check failure, we would get cards punched out for individual strips since individuals are plotted in that case

I would appreciate your comments on this proposal by January 2, 1971

Testing Your HP Fax Machine with the HP Fax Test Service

Introduction

This document will assist you in testing your HP Fax machine using the HP Fax Test Service. Print this document for easy reference by clicking the Printable Version link in the upper right corner of this page.

Test your fax machine

To test the capability of your fax machine, follow the directions below.

NOTE: Be sure that your phone number is Fax Caller ID blocked by your telephone company prior to attempting to send and receive a fax. Pressing *82 before dialing the toll free number will unblock the Caller ID blocking feature in most areas. Other phone company services can prevent you from receiving a fax, including voice mail, call blocking, or call privacy features.

NOTE: Whenever troubleshooting a fax issue, it is good practice to set the Automatic Reports option to Error Error before attempting a test fax. This way, even if the test fax fails, an error code will be generated that will guide you in future troubleshooting. This option is available in different places on different products, consult the product User's Guide for specific steps.

1. Send a one page blank and white test fax to 1-888-hpfaxme (1-888-473-2963).
2. When your fax is received by the HP Fax Fax Service, we will generate a return fax to you within five minutes confirming that we received your fax. This verifies that you can both send and receive a fax with your fax machine.

If you do not receive a return fax within 5-7 minutes, there may be a problem with the setup of your fax machine. Consult the user manual that came with the product for proper setup and configuration.

NOTE: The most common cause of failure is that the fax number set in the Fax Header on the machine does not match the number of the phone line connected to the fax. Also, ensure that the fax header contains the full 10-digit telephone number of the fax machine, including the area code.

Genius Is Mysterious

All members of Mensa have I.Q.s of at least 140.

At one Mensa convention, several members at a local cafe noticed the shaker with an S on top, for salt, contained pepper and their pepper shaker, with a P on top, was full of salt. How could they swap the contents of the bottles without spilling anything and using only the implements at hand? Clearly, here was a perfect Mensa challenge!

They presented ideas, debated them, and finally came up with what they felt was a brilliant solution involving a napkin, a straw, and an empty saucer.

They called the blonde waitress over to dazzle her with their solution.

"Ma'am," they said, "we couldn't help but notice that the pepper shaker contains salt and the salt shaker contains..."

"Oh, sorry!" interrupted the blonde waitress. "Here," and she unscrewed the caps of both bottles and switched them.

11.7. HP JetDirect Interface

The HP JetDirect Interface is one of the most widely used for network printers For this reason it also has the most widely known set of problems The user is strongly urged to upgrade to the latest version of firmware available for the unit. Problems with older versions of firmware include system lockups that require powerup level resets

Newer versions of the HP JetDirect Interface have a Web Browser based configuration system After you have assigned an IP address to the printer you can connect to the configuration port and configure the printer using the browser If you run into configuration problems then you will most likely need to use the Microsoft Windows based JetDirect Configuration Software to reset or reconfigure the printer

Older HPJetDirect cards can be configured only through through the front panel or through a set of network files Here is a summary of the methods used from UNIX systems or to use when you are desperate to configure the printer

11.7.1. Resetting To Factory Defaults

Most internal HP JetDirect print servers can be reset to factory defaults (or cold reset) by turning the printer off and holding down the `online` or `Go` button while turning the printer back on The printer control panel display should read `Cold Reset` `Restoring Factory Settings` or something similar

11.7.2. Setting Up IP Networking and Address

You can set the network address from the front panel. Reset the printer, put it in offline mode and then use the MENU +- SELECT keys as follows:

MENU   -> MIO MENU (use MENU to display MIO MENU)
ITEM   -> CFG NETWORK=NO*
+      -> CFG NETWORK=YES
ENTER  -> CFG NETWORK=YES*
ITEM   -> TCP/IP=OFF* (use ITEM to display TCP/IP)
+      -> TCP/IP=ON ENTER  -> TCP/IP=ON*
ITEM   -> CFG TCP/IP=NO* (use ITEM to display TCP/IP)
+      -> CFG TCP/IP=YES
ENTER  -> CFG TCP/IP=YES*
ITEM   -> BOOTP=NO*
    (Enable BOOTP if you want to - see below)
ITEM   -> IP BYTE 1=0*
    This is IP address MSB byte.
    Use +- keys to change value and then ENTER to change
    Use ITEM keys to get IP BYTE=2 3 4
ITEM   -> SM BYTE 1=255*

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes cannot open files because they don't have the applications used to create the document.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating system. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

Beef Short Ribs

...nhu...se Note

Recipe Summary
Prep Time 10 minutes
Cook Time 2 hours 10 minutes
Yield 4 servings
User Rating ☆☆☆☆☆

3 to 4 pounds beef short ribs
1 medium onion, sliced
1 medium carrot, peeled and chopped
2 celery stalks, chopped
2 cloves garlic, roughly chopped
1 (15-ounce) can tomato paste
1 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
1 tablespoon oil
Salt and black pepper
Beef broth, enough to cover the ribs

In a large Dutch oven heat the oil and brown the ribs on all sides. Add the carrots, celery, onion and garlic. Continue to cook for about 2 to 3 minutes. Add the tomato paste and cook stirring slowly for 3 more minutes. Optional: you can dust the short ribs at this time with flour to help thicken the sauce. Add the rest of the ingredients and cover. Cook for about 2 hours on low heat (simmer) or until the meat begins to pull from the bone. When done remove from the pan and strain the liquid. You can now thicken the sauce or leave as is and season with salt and pepper. Serve with truffle mashed potatoes and haricots verts.

Truffle mashed potatoes are standard mashed potatoes with chopped black truffles and a little truffle oil added to them.

Your Tech Skills Have a Two Year Half Life

Posted by samzenpus on Wednesday October 26 @03:16PM
from the use-it-or-lose-it dept itwbennett writes "Eric Bloom, an IT leadership coach and former CIO, has answered that eternal question: does working on old software hurt your professional marketability? With a somewhat surprising 'no.' But, Bloom adds, a techie's skill set from a marketability perspective has a two year half life. That is to say, that the exact set of skills you have today will only be half as marketable two years from now."

Americas New CIO Wants To Disrupt Government and Make It a Startup

Posted by [illegible] on Wednesday October 26 @02:33PM
from the Jean's-ate dept

An anonymous reader writes "America's new CIO Steven VanRoekel wants to revamp the federal government and make it as agile as a startup. But first he has to get rid of things like the Department of Agriculture's 21 different e-mail systems. From the article: 'Too often, we have built closed, monolithic projects that are outdated or no longer needed by the time they launch,' he said. As an example, he mentioned the Defense Department's human resources management system. Dubbed the 'Defense Integrated Military Human Resource System,' the project was meant to take seven years to develop. Instead it took 10, cost $850 million and had to be scrapped after 10 years of development in 2010 because it ended up being useless."

[illegible] Desktop Human Interaction With Virtual Objects

Posted by samzenpus on Wednesday October 26 @01:47PM
from the touch-away dept

Zibodiz writes "The Sensors and Devices group at Microsoft Research has developed a new system called HoloDesk that allows users to pick up, move and even shoot virtual 3D objects. It's about the size of a filing cabinet and is made up of an overhead screen that projects a 2D image through a half silvered beam splitter into a viewing area beneath. A Kinect camera keeps tabs on a user's hand position within the 3D virtual environment, a webcam tracks the user's face to help with placement accuracy, and custom algorithms bring everything together in (something very close to) real time."

Expert: Duqu Is a Custom Attack Framework

Trailrunner7 writes "All of the hype about Duqu being the next Stuxnet obscured many of the real facts about the new malware. It turns out that Duqu not only is essentially a customizable attack framework with separate modules for each target, but that it has been found on high value networks in Iran and the Sudan. Testing Your HP Fax Machine with the HP Fax Test Service

Introduction

This document will assist you in testing your HP Fax machine using the HP Fax Test Service.

Print this document for easy reference by clicking the Printable Version link in the upper right corner of this page.

Test your fax machine

To test the setting of your fax machine, follow the directions below.

NOTE: Be sure that your phone number is not Caller ID blocked by your telephone provider prior to attempting to send and receive a fax. Enabling "Star Codes" by adding *82 and then the number will unblock the line. See "Enabling Features in your phone" below. Other phone company services may prevent you from receiving a fax, including voice mail, call blocking, or call privacy features.

NOTE: Whenever re-determining a telephone, it is good practice to set the Automatic Answering option to Every Time before attempting a test fax. This way, even if the send fax times out, the unit will be ready to receive the call (just in case future troubleshooting). This option is available in all telephones on different products, since it is a product user's guide for specific steps.

1. Send a one page black and white test fax to 1-888-475-3863
2. When your fax is received by the HP Test Fax Service, we will generate a dialer fax to you within five minutes containing that we received your fax. This verifies that you can both send and receive a fax with your fax machine.

If you do not receive a dialer fax within 5-7 minutes, there may be a problem with the setup of your fax machine. Consult the user manual that came with the product for proper setup and configuration.

NOTE: The most common cause of failure is that the telephone cable on the machine does not match the number of the phone line connection on the fax. As a picture that is the header contains the full 10-digit telephone number of the fax machine, including the area code.

For more information or assistance, click Contact HP at the top of this page.

How to test sending and receiving of a fax machine

Published in Tech Tips on Nov 05 2009

Eventually, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine: send fax to e-page. Fax to 1-888-877-1655 or 1-503-200-1900. When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to fax.live. It is a fine web site that displays whoever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a larger version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine: point your web browser to fax.zero, this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.
